

To whom it may concern:

This is an endorsement letter for David Truong. I have known and taught David Tan over the past year while he was participating in the Leadership Certificate Program at Valdosta State University. As the program coordinator, I was able to see David Tan's personal and professional development firsthand.

The Leadership Certificate Program is an elective program designed for highly motivated students that wish to foster personal growth through self-learning and reflection that expose students to leadership skills and challenges. The program is based on national standards and best practices in areas of leadership and community service. David Tan excelled in the program and completed it a semester earlier than his fellow cohort members. His participation in this program has allowed him to walk away with refined skills in the areas of effective communication, collaboration, critical thinking, appreciation for diversity, and ethical decisions which are highly valued in today's society.

Outside of his experience with the Leadership Certificate Program, David Tan continues to demonstrate exceptional leadership and academic involvement. This is seen especially in areas of programming. He has served as an assistant web developer providing services to the Chamber of Commerce, worked as a computer science tutor at Valdosta State University, and as a programming intern at Valdosta Middle School. From participating in the International Collegiate Programming Contest, holding an executive position in Phi Delta Alpha, to graduating Cum Laude in international affairs at the University of Georgia, and much more, David Tan has obtained a variety of rich and relevant experiences that would be a phenomenal addition to any program, including yours.

In conclusion, David Tan is a hardworking individual who takes initiative to continuously better himself and invests in his education. I encourage you to highly consider him in your selection process. If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to reach out to me at SLLeadership@valdosta.edu or via phone at 229.333.5674.

Sincerely,
